FIERCE BATTLE ON IN PICARDY

BRITISH STILL GOING FOWARD

ENGLISH MAKE PROGRESS ON A FRONT OF ABOUT 25 MILES.

(By the Associated Press)
London, August 23.—In the battle being fought on the line between Lihons south of the Somme to Cojeul river, southwest of Arras on a front of over twenty-five miles, according to today's war office statement, the British troops are making progress at a number of points. The statement says that two enemy attacks east of Beaumont were repulsed during the night. On the Lysa front the British line advanced slightly north-west of Neuf Berquin and east of Outtersteen.

NOYON UNDER FRENCH FIRE

GERMAN RETREAT TO OLD HINDENBURG LINE SEEMS ASSURED IN SHORT TIME.

(By the Associated Press)
The British and German armies are locked in a mighty battle over a front of twenty-five miles from Lihons, six miles south of the Somme, to the river Cojeul, southwest of Arras. This attack, which began with the British offensive Wednesday, now has spread into one of the greatest battles yet fought in the Picardy sector.

It is officially reported that the British are progressing at some points and that the German counter-attacks east of Beaumont and the center of the front, were repulsed with great loss to the enemy.

The French troops have occupied the south bank of the Oise and Ailette rivers between Sempigny, south of Noyon, to the railroad bridge of Concy-le-Chateau. Along the Oise the enemy is apparently retreating precipitately and allied pressure continues all along this sector of the fighting area. Unless the enemy can stop the allied rush, all his territorial gains of the present year are in a fair way to be wiped out entirely.

If either of the allied strokes break through, the old Hindenburg line itself, the line the Germans fell back to in 1917, will be imperiled.

Noyon, the pivot of the German lines in Picardy, still holds out, but the town and the surrounding heights are under French fire.

WAR'S GREATEST BATTLE ON IN NORTHERN LINE. GERMANS THROW IN GREAT MASSES.

(By the Associated Press)
Along the front in northern Picardy a battle, which seems to be one of the war's greatest, has developed. Disaster is reported to be threatening the entire German army on this front and the enemy is throwing great masses of men into the struggle in hope of checking the tide of battle which is setting against them, according to dispatches from British headquarters in France.

BRITISH TAKE 1000 PRISONERS

VILLAGE AND MEN CAPTURED IN DRIVE SOUTH OF THE SOMME.

(By the Associated Press)
With British Armies in France, Aug. 23.—British troops this morning were reported to have captured Chugnot and Herleville south of the Somme. Over one thousand prisoners were taken in the operation, which eliminates the bend in the line here. The British have reached Gomicourt, which is considered the chief point of German defense positions. South of Gomicourt the British were attacking this morning, pushing forward along the entire line.

NEW DRIVE FOR Y. M. C. A. FUNDS

San Antonio, Texas, August 23.—The week of November 11 has been set aside for the great union war drive to raise $133,500,000 for war work of the Young Men's Christian Association, the Young Women's Christian Association, the War Camp Community Service and the American Library Association, according to an announcement received here from the representatives of the four organizations.

The Young Men's Christian Association will receive $100,000,000 from the fund and the Young Women's Christian Association $15,000,000, the War Camp Community Service $15,000,000 and the Library Association $3,500,000.

STONEWALL ITEMS.

(From the Stonewall News)
Otto Hatcher, who has been stationed at Fort Sheridan, Ill., has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hatcher.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. K. McKoy left last Friday for an overland trip to Colorado Springs, where they will spend a short vacation.

In the recent raid in Tulsa a few days ago, when 700 draft evaders were arrested, Connor Strickland of Stonewall happened to be included in the list. He soon proved, however, that he was a loyal citizen and was not yet 21 years of age. He was released by the officials.

"Grandma Gibbs of the Red Cross," was the title of a play presented by the young people of Tupelo at the Stonewall High School auditorium last Tuesday night to a fair sized audience. The proceeds went to the Red Cross. The play was presented under the direction of Miss Retta Statler of Tupelo.

Will Beaver was arrested Tuesday night by Constable Gus Nebhut at the Katy depot, while in the act of purchasing a ticket to McAlester. A warrant had been issued charging him with vagrancy, but since he was to be called to war August 29, Constable Nebhut had decided not to make the arrest. However, when he discovered that Beaver intended leaving town, just to be certain that he would be present on the 29th, he was detained on the vagrancy charge.

LIBERTY.

The Ideal Musical Comedy Co. is still an attractive feature at the Liberty, and will appear tonight in an entire change of program. The picture program includes a Blue Ribbon Vitaphone featuring Nell Shipman in "The Girl from Beyond."

ALLIES FIGHTING IN RUSSIA

ALLIED TROOPS FORCED TO RETIRE—BEING OUTNUMBERED. ENEMY USES MONITORS

(By the Associated Press)
London, August 23.—Allied troops on the Ussuri river front north of Vladivostok who are outnumbered by the enemy have been forced to withdraw after heavy fighting, says a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Harbin, dated Wednesday. British and French troops were engaged in the battle, but the brunt of the conflict was borne by the Cossacks and Czechoslovaks. Japanese units aided in the retirement. Bolshevik monitors which are operating on Lake Hanka are harassing the allied left.

HUNS DRIVEN FROM ALBERT

BRITISH TOMMIES ADVANCE TWO MILES AND TAKE 5000 HUNS.

London, Aug. 23.—The town of Albert, eighteen miles, northeast of Amiens, on the Ancre river, has been recaptured by the British, who also have obtained all their objectives in the fighting today between Bray-Sur-Somme and Albert, according to the official communication from Field Marshal Haig tonight. Over the six-mile front the British advanced two miles. More than 5,000 prisoners have been captured in two days. The text of the British statement reads:

"At 4:45 o'clock this morning our troops attacked the positions of the enemy between the Somme and the Ancre rivers.

"In our attack between Bray-Sur-Somme and Albert we have been completely successful, capturing the whole of our objectives at an early hour and advancing two miles on a front of more than six miles.

"We have retaken Albert. "There was considerable resistance at certain points, especially on the slopes north of Bray, the town itself not forming a part of our objective.

"We have captured over 5000 prisoners and a few guns."

FRENCH POILUS PUSHING SOUTH

(By the Associated Press)
Paris, August 23.—Between the Aisne and the Oise the French advanced their lines during last night to Guay and Pont St. Mar. Just south of the Ailette river they held the Oise right bank and the Ailette from Sempigny to the railroad west of Concy Chateau, according to an official statement.

A Call for Help.

To the Patriotic Citizens of Ada: On the 24th inst., we are again required to hold a registration of all men becoming 21 since June 5th, and on or prior to August 24th, 1918. It is highly important that we register, examine and classify these men with all haste, and we hope to do this all on the same day. The government is calling for men, men, and more men, and already Pontotoc county had a call for 114 men it couldn't fill.

We need four assistant registrars, who write a good hand, two girl stenographers and typists, and we ask that the doctors and lawyers of the city be ready to examine, and assist the registrars in filling out their questionnaires all on the 24th. We ask the lawyers to give special and careful attention to the item of the questionnaire marked "DEPENDENT" for this is the main key of the classification.

'COMRADES IN SERVICE,' NEW ORGANIZATION

Friends and relatives of soldiers killed in France will be able to receive letters telling of the last hours of the father, husband, or brother, according to a plan being perfected by the "Comrades in Service" organization of the south and southwest. Each squad will constitute a letter writing unit, and in the case of the wounding or killing of any one of their number, his comrades will see that word reaches the folks back home. Sometimes a last message from the fallen one will be sent or perhaps some personal belonging which the father and mother, wife or sweet heart will cherish.

WOMAN CONFESSES KILLING WILBURN

The mystery which has surrounded the killing of Ed Wilburn, a prominent cattleman of southern Oklahoma, has been completely solved by a confession made before District Judge Linebaugh at Coalgate, by Mrs. Grace Lively.

The killing took place in a pasture north of Coalgate, probably in March, and only a few days ago was the decomposed body found. The Livelys were arrested and charged with the killing and not until the confession of Mrs. Lively was made public were the details available.

In the confession Lively was exonerated, and full responsibility assumed by Mrs. Lively. Both Lively and wife were admitted to bail in the sum of $10,000.

ILLINOIS CELEBRATING HUNDRETH ANNIVERSARY

(By the Associated Press)

Springfield, Ill., April 18.—Days when Illinois was in its infancy were recalled here today at exercises in which the state celebrated the passage by congress, one hundred years ago, of the act which enabled the commonwealth to assume statehood.

The Springfield celebration was being held at the same time that colleges and communities in the state also were commemorating the century anniversary in Illinois history.

Governor Lowden is to be chairman of a big meeting tonight in the state house when distinguished speakers will deliver addresses. Present will be members of the state centennial commission and the state historical society as well as visitors from Virginia, Indiana and Ohio, states which formed a part of the old northwest territory of which Illinois was a part before 1818. Tonight's speakers will be Louis Aubert, French high commissioner to the United States, and John H. Finley, president of the university of New York.

ANNUAL DISTRICT TRACK MEET

Large Attendance Expected
Friday, April 19

The sixth annual interscholastic meet of the East Central State Normal will be held at the Normal School on April 19 and 20. Preparations for handling a larger crowd than ever are complete and East Centralites are looking forward to a record-breaking meet. Last year more than six hundred contestants took part and it is expected that the number will be even greater this year.

Representatives from eleven counties representing more than twelve hundred rural schools will compete in the grammar school section of the meet. This part of the meet has grown in recent years until it holds a position not inferior in point of interest to the high school section. The young athletes, instead of competing for their school districts, compete for their counties. Johnson county has won the last four meets and secured permanent possession of a beautiful cup. Last year a new cup was purchased and a number of other counties will endeavor to break Johnson county's winning streak. Okfuskee county is a new competitor in this part of the meet. Pontotoc county has usually ranked second with Hughes, Murray, Seminole and Pottawatomie well represented.

The high school section will contest as usual in track and field, reading, piano, glee club and mixed chorus, baseball, tennis and girls' basketball. Fifty high schools are expected to enter these contests from every part of the district. In the past, Purcell has been twice a winner of the track meet and Shawnee has won once, Holdenville now holding the cup. Henryetta and Okemah each have a leg on the baseball trophy and Francis has won the mixed chorus trophy once. These schools will all be represented again and will try either to secure these trophies permanently or increase their claim on them. Two hundred dollars has been spent in securing trophies for individuals and organizations. Contestants will be given lodging Friday night and breakfast Saturday morning by the people of Ada. The Frisco will likely hold the northbound train Saturday afternoon until five o'clock for the benefit of the people who go north on this line. The Katy will hold its northbound passenger at Ada thirty minutes Saturday afternoon giving contestants from Shawnee, Tecumseh, Maud and McLoud ample time to finish the meet and get home Saturday afternoon. All other out-bound trains leave later in the afternoon and evening.

A new cup is offered for the sixth annual meet in baseball, and it is hoped several entries will be made in this contest.

The basketball cup is now held by Francis, while Henryetta holds the mixed chorus cup, Francis having won it once.

Johnson county has won one leg of the grammar school cup having been winner of these events four times. A spirited contest is promised by several counties to wrest from her the honor.

OIL OPERATIONS IN PONTOTOC COUNTY

The Daokla well, 16-3-6, two miles south of Ada, is drilling at 550 feet. The Sherman well, 23-4-7, was shut down the first of the week to await the arrival of some machinery parts.

The new Mascho well is drilling around 200 feet.

Drew et al are erecting three rigs in Sec. 11-4-7, 10-4-7, and 14-4-6.

The Oil State has a rig up in 34-5-7 and will begin drilling within the next ten days.

The Magnolia well resumed drilling the first of the week.

Abbott et al resumed drilling in 24-4-6 Saturday after a two weeks fishing job.

Benedum & Trees now have one standard and three Parkersburg rigs up offsetting the first well which is now reported flowing about 45 barrels per day.

The Ohio City Oil Co. has recently acquired considerable holdings in the north part of the county around Tyrola and evidently expect to begin testing it out sometime soon.

The yield of the Allen-Francis-Ada field is now estimated around 900 barrels per day and increasing with the bringing in of new wells.

DARKEY COVETED

(By the Associated Press)

Princeton, Ky., April 18.—"I've thinkin' uv de purty close dem udder boys'll git to wear," was the woeful statement that summed up the disappointment of Leslie George, a negro draft registrant, when a train bearing Caldwell county, Kentucky, negro select, pulled out for Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville, leaving George behind.

George recently passed the physical examination with flying colors. The local board, however, ruled that because George was a skilled farm hand, the scarcity of such laborers necessitated his remaining here. "You may go to war after the harvest," the board told George.

Presenting himself at the station with the intention of boarding the train, notwithstanding the board's verdict, the negro wept bitterly because permission to enlist was refused. Members of the board made attempts to console George but their efforts were vainly spent. George's sorrow was like that of a heart-broken lover.

LOVER'S FRATERNITY PIN WON'T KEEP HIM OUT

Kansas City, Mo., April 18.—The wearing of a fraternity pin is not sufficient proof of an engagement to marry, according to a recent decision of the district draft board here. The claim of a former University of Missouri student, married after the enactment of the draft law, set forth as evidence that he was engaged to marry before the passage of the act because of the fact that the girl wore his fraternity pin "in a concealed place." An affidavit from the bride's sorority sisters, corroborated this statement.

The board ruled that the giving of a fraternity pin in lieu of announcing the engagement did not constitute a contract to marry.

County Demonstrator Hill states that in talking with several farmers who have begun gathering corn that the yield is much better than was first believed. The yield of milo maize and other members of the maize family, except early corn, is good. J. D. Pace, who lives near Frisco, has a splendid yield of milo maize that has never been raised on.
The crop was planted two days after the last rain, and has stood the past seven weeks splendidly.

One of the most disgusting things we have seen during the war is a bunch of big burly negroes waiting on tables in cafes and restaurants. It is within the laws of reason for a negro man to wait on tables, carry in the food, juggle a bit and then stand back and wait for the tip when there is no war. But now that labor is scarce and heavy work needed in the war industries and on the farms, it appears to us as little less than unpatriotic for any hotel or restaurant man to employ these big black fellows.

BOMBING OF DUMPS IS EXCITING SPORT

Behind the British Lines in France, August 23 (Correspondence of The Associated Press).—
The British aviation communique frequently contains a brief line to record that "direct hits were obtained upon an enemy dump at "some point behind the German lines. This colorless announcement may seem to the reader in America nothing more than the record of a dull piece of routine, but the deed itself is different from its record.

American airmen attached to the British squadrons have long since found out that the business of bombing "dumps" often is exciting and spectacular work. Moreover, the importance of its effect upon enemy plans and operations can hardly be exaggerated. A well-aimed hit on a store of German ammunition may destroy the work of many months in the munition factories, and cripple numerous batteries for many long days.

A British airman, Lieutenant W.
A. Barnes, has given The Associated Press the following account of a recent 58-minute raid on a German dump as characteristic of this form of activity.

"On this particular night there was not enough moonlight for a long raid, so the target given us was a German ammunition dump. We welcomed the change, for, naturally, the strain of long distance raids into Germany, night after night, becomes a bit wearing. Dumps are of course, situated as near as possible to the firing line; and so mean short raids.

"Dumps are by no means easy targets to find at night, for they are seldom situated near any definite landmarks, and are usually well camouflaged. By the study of maps and photographs, however, we had pretty well located the position of this one, and started out on the raid with high hopes of success.

"We flew almost due East from the aerodrome. At the end of the fifty minutes, we could just make out the outline of sheds. This was good, but we let out a parachute flare to light up the ground, and make sure we were over the target.
This promptly dispelled all doubts,
for the Hun searchlights opened up at once, and a hail of machine gun bullets leaped up from the ground.
Anti-aircraft guns had been firing for some time, but the shells were bursting well above us, and giving no trouble.

"The parachute flare proved a real friend, because both searchlights and machine guns concentrated upon it, giving us just sufficient time to dive swiftly, release our bombs, switch on the engine, and start climbing.

"When we turned to observe results, we witnessed the finest firework display I ever saw. Ammunition was cracking off at record speed, dense clouds of smoke were rising,
and highly colored flames were leaping a hundred feet and more, from the ground.

"We watched this pleasing exhibition for some minutes, until the cough of "Archie" burst near by to remind us that we were still over Hun-land and so turned and steered for home.

"The whole job occupied exactly 58 minutes; but it must have cost German hundreds of man-power hours in munitions works—there was still some fire there at noon next day—and saved our French allies a good many casualties, for, as it happens, that big dump, we learned, was to serve a bit of front facing French troops.

DR. BAYNE'S WORK IN STRICKEN RUMANIA

Paris, Aug. 23.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—Typhus
has again broken out in Rumania, particularly in the part occupied by the Germans, and there has been a large number of deaths. The victims are mostly poor Rumanian peasants, and little effort is made by the German medical authorities to combat the disease. There is a serious shortage of food, and those who do not die of typhus usually succumb to starvation. The Moldavian section of Rumania is practically free for the epidemic. This information was conveyed to The Associated Press today by Herbert Mayer, Secretary to Charles J. Vossler, American consul-tor at Jassy, who has just returned from Rumania via Austria and Switzerland.

According to Mr. Mayer, an American physician, Dr. Breckinridge Bayne, of Washington, D. C., who was in Bucharest for nearly two years during the German occupation and who is now on his way to the United States, was the only one who had the courage to go into the affected areas in Wallachia and fight the disease. Dr. Bayne usually was accompanied by two or three German physicians, who pretended to represent the German sanitary department, and who would force him to enter the infected houses and bring out the patients for inspection.
There had been several deaths among the German physicians from the disease, and as a result all German doctors had an intense dread of it. They refused flatly to minister to the sick or dying.

This work was left to Dr. Bayne, whose immunity from the malady was a constant source of mystery to the Hun physicians. Dr. Bayne, who braved all forms of contagion would go into the little mud hovels of the peasants and carry the patients out for observation by the German medical officers. The Germans would look the case over curiously and then declare, "Yes, that is typhus take the patient back, and put up a notice in red, "He Who Enters Here Dies."

Dr. Bayne would give the unfortunate sufferer what little treatment he could, but he knew it would be only temporary. The Germans showed the most callous disregard for human life, and the stricken inhabitants of the villages would be left either to succumb to typhus or die from starvation.

For his heroic and unrelenting work among the people in the Rumanian villages, Dr. Bayne received before he left the highest decoration within the gift of the King of Rumania and was everywhere regarded as one of the saviors of the people.
Even the hardened Muckensen, the German Field Marshal, showed him special recognition and sent him cigars and other favors while in Bucharest.

GINNERS TO SAVE MANY TONS OF COAL

W. D. Little, executive secretary to state fuel administrator P. A. Norris, has returned from Oklahoma City where he conferred with the ginners of the state relative to conservation of coal. Mr. Little states that the ginn-ers are glad to cooperate and save every ton of coal possible.

"There will be a great shortage of cotton in all parts of Oklahoma," says Mr. Little, "judging from reports from practically every cotton producing county. For all gins to run would not only be foolish from a business standpoint but would cause a great waste of fuel and labor.
The ginn-ers, therefore, with the consent of the corporation commission, are planning to operate only about half of the gins. In this way much coal will be saved.

"The ginn-ers are also saving fuel in observing the request of Mr. Norris that they do not fire up to gin only one, two or three bales of cotton. They are being asked not to fire up until at least eight or ten bales are available. As it takes almost as much coal to gin one bale as it does to gin ten, there will be a great saving by observing this request."

BOY SCOUTS

(Conducted by National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.)

FRENCH SCOUTS GREET US

The scout program as taught to the youth of this country through the Boy Scouts of America has proved to be so effective in the making of good soldiers and in actual warfare that the French government has decided to prepare a system of physical and moral training based on it.

There are already in our forces in France more than 100,000 soldiers who were Boy Scouts of America or scout officials, and the fact that a very large proportion of them have been made officers shows the practical value of scouting.

The French secretary of foreign affairs, Stephen Pichon, in a cablegram to national headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America, 200 Fifth avenue, New York, says in part:

"Our officers and soldiers show the result of scout training; their strength comes from their spirit. Boy scouts here are always on duty and in uniform."

"The government is preparing a general system of physical and moral training along scout lines."

SCOUT SAVES ARMY CAPTAIN

In saving Capt. Miller R. Taylor from drowning, Edgar Woodward, a boy scout, has added prestige to his organization.

Captain Taylor with 128 men of the One Hundred and Eighty-ninth aero squadron had gone into camp near Kemah, Tex., on Clear Creek.

Captain Taylor attempted to swim across, but was seized with a cramp. He tells of his rescue as follows:

"After I was within twenty or thirty yards of the bank I felt my legs cramp and realized that I was near to drowning. The cramp extended to my arms, and I went down. Half conscious, I struggled to the surface, expelled some of the water from my lungs, but was unable to swim, and again went down. Once more I came to the surface of the water long enough to get one breath before I again sank. Then when I had given up the struggle I felt a hand grab mine. I owe my life to the quick headwork and heroism of this boy scout, who had been watching me from the bank and who started for me as soon as he saw I was in distress."

STARTING THE SEA SCOUTS.

The boys in the sea scout division of the Boy Scouts of America practice seamanship of the real sort, building, launching, sculling, rowing, sailing small boats in the waters near the "ship" or the headquarters of the crew.

Any nine registered scouts can apply for assignment as a "ship's company" provided their scoutmaster is handy on the water, a lifesaver and a swimmer. To sail a boat, however, scouts must be fourteen and first-class swimmers and lifesavers, gain parents' special permission and qualify in sea scout requirements.

They must also recruit the company to three or four boats' crews, and be under an adult officer known as the "sea scoutmaster" who is a registered scoutmaster, assigned to this branch.

SCOUT USES HIS TRAINING.

Practical results of the value of first aid work was exemplified by boy scouts of Mitchell, S. D., while on a hike to Firesteel Creek. Corwin Wright, a twelve-year-old boy, stumbled and fell upon a thick piece of glass, cutting a deep gash in his knee-cap.

Without the slightest hesitation, Wesley Walker, age 14, took Wright's legging and stocking off and doctored the injury. Water was boiling over a fire built by the scouts, and he used this to cleanse the wound thoroughly. From a scout kit he took a sterilized bandage and had the wound dressed within ten minutes after the accident occurred.

SCOUTS HUNT FARM WORKERS.

Six thousand boy scouts are enrolling business men of Philadelphia as farm workers. In business offices and factories the boys will enroll men who have had much farm experience, those who have had little and those who have had none.

When the recruits have been classified, the men who are able to give one day to farm work will be put in one class, those who can give a week in another and those who give their entire vacation of more than a week in the third.

SCOUTS HARVEST PEACH CROP.

Because of the shortage of labor the boy scouts of Georgia will rally to the aid of the peach growers.

There are no more efficient workers in Georgia than the boy scouts, and it is their enthusiasm and energy that can be turned to the gathering of the peach crop. It will save the high cost of the fruit to the public because of scarcity, will conserve it for canning purposes, thereby making it a part of the food reserve of the nation, and will save the situation for the growers.

THE WAY OF A GIRL

By MISS JEANNE M. BLACK.

"Helen, I wonder who that distinguished-looking stranger 'can' be who passes here so persistently every few hours in that gray roadster," said Mrs. Burk as she peered from between the curtains of the parlor window.

Helen blushed furiously and turned a conscious face to her mother. "Oh, yes, mamsey, I forgot to tell you about him. He is a guest at the tavern. I call him my Prince Charming," said Helen, laughing. "His name is Leroy Talmage. They say he made loads of money in Kalamazoo, Timbuctoo or some outlandish place, and came back to civilization to spend it. Then came the war. He has been to France and incidentally covered himself with glory and medals. He wears the military cross and the Legion of Honor upon his breast and looks like a man who really counts," finished the girl with sparkling eyes.

"But what brings such an amazing person to our secluded village? What is the attraction?" asked Mrs. Burk. "Oh, rest and scenery, I suppose; he is on leave for convalescence. He calls these bald old mountains and rocky pastures 'exquisite,' 'a valley of dreams' and one of 'God's beauty spots.' I must say I don't admire his taste; give me the flesh-pots and bright lights. I care not how beautiful it be, if it be not beautiful to me," sang the happy girl as she pinned on her sun hat and gathering up a tin pail and lunch basket, she opened the door to the wind-blown morning.

"Bye-bye, mamsey, I'm off. I'll take the Marsh baby along for company and give poor Mrs. Marsh a chance to get her jelly made. Baby can roll in the clover while I pick berries." "Well," thought Helen, with a giggle, as she tripped gaily away, "that's the time I put one over on mother. If she dreamed that her unsophisticated little daughter had actually flirted with the handsome stranger, I tremble to think what would happen to little me. But I should worry, everybody talks to soldiers these days."

Within half an hour, the Marsh baby, a pink and white morsel in rompers, was stumbling among the clover on unsteady legs, picking the "pitty-pitties" while Helen picked berries in the pasture on the other side of a rail fence. Suddenly the silence of the summer morning was broken by the low-toned honk-honk of a motor car, and a familiar gray roadster of aristocratic lines came purring along the road and ground to a stop opposite the busy berry picker. A transformed Helen nodded a gay "good morning." Leroy Talmage climbed from behind the steering wheel and with one leap was over the low stone wall, and with widening eyes stood looking down at baby Marsh. "Da da," gurgled the infant, lifting entrancing blue eyes and chubby arms. "You rascal," and the tall military man, caught the child up, held him aloft, then cuddled the little creature in his strong arms. The rose-leaf mouth was pressed to his bronzed cheek and the busy fingers played with the military cross.

"Why, baby Marsh, you are altogether too familiar," scolded Helen. "He calls every man he sees 'Dada,'" explained the girl, with a bright blush. "His father is in France and he naturally misses him."

"Don't apologize for baby, Mrs. Marsh; let me play with him. I am very fond of children."

When luncheon was over, the man sat quietly smoking and watching the girl with the sleeping child resting against her knee.

"Mrs. Marsh," he began, "I was amazed to find that you were a married woman." After a tense silence he added earnestly: "Would it interest you to know that I have never been in love—not the real thing? Another silence. The girl stirred restlessly. The man went on huskily: "When I first saw you tripping along your quaint village streets, in your simple white gown and rose-wreathed hair, with your Red Cross bag on your arm—well, I knew I had reached a turning point in my life—that's all. I hope you will not think this confession impertinent. I am not in the habit of making love to other men's wives, and I hope you'll forgive me."

The girl sat with demure, downcast eyes, twining the child's silken curls about her finger. Suddenly she sprang to her feet with an exclamation. "Quick, it is raining; a big drop splashed on baby's nose; we will get soaked. Mr. Talmage, will you kindly motor us home?"

Ten minutes later they pulled up before Burk cottage. Helen turned a roguish face to her companion. "May I trouble you to drive up the street a block further? I must return baby Marsh to his mother. He was borrowed only for the day. And I would like to introduce myself. My name is Miss Helen Burk."

"Then you are not married?" exclaimed the man, and he turned a transformed face to the girl.

"No, that I know of," returned Helen, with a glance that meant much. "Won't you forgive me, Mr. Talmage," she said, trembling with emotion. "I'll think it over, sweetheart. It is a small thing to forgive, when the ending is so wonderful. She looked up at him sweetly. "There's a big life ahead of us, dear." His hand closed over hers in warmest tones. REAL ESTATE MAN COULD HARDLY WALK

Feet Were So Sore From Rheumatism He Could Hardly Put on His Shoes.

"I was so crippled up with rheumatism that I could hardly walk, when I began using Tanlac," said J. R. Owens, a well known real estate operator, residing at 831 Rivas San Antonio, Texas, recently.

"About a year ago," he continued, "I began to suffer from rheumatism that kept getting worse in spite of all that I could do. My limbs would ache so I could hardly bear it and my joints would get so stiff that at times it was all I could do to drag myself around. When I got out of bed in the morning my hands and feet would be so stiff and hurt so bad I could hardly put on my shoes. I suffered agonies night and day and though I tried about everything in the way of treatments that I could hear of, nothing did me any good."

"One day I read in the papers about a man who had been relieved of a case of rheumatism like mine through the use of Tanlac and that encouraged me to give it a trial. I'm certain glad I did for it has done me more good than anything else I have even taken. By the time I had used up my first bottle, the stiffness had about left my joints and my limbs had stopped aching. My improvement since has been so wonderful that I am confident a few more bottles of Tanlac will make me as well as I ever was."

Tanlac is sold in Ada by Gwin & Mays Drug Co. Adv.

Wheat for Winning the War.

Specialists of the United States department of agriculture state that the government deems it desirable that the acreage sown to wheat this fall and next spring shall be sufficient to assure, if possible, a harvest acreage of wheat in 1919 as large as the acreage harvested this year. This will require an acreage of not less than 45,000,000 this fall. These recommendations for winter wheat represent an increase of 7 per cent; 12 per cent for the country as a whole.

According to statistics in previous years from 45,000,000 acres of winter wheat we should expect a yield of 636,000,000 bushels compared to an estimated yield this year of 557,000,000 bushels. This estimate is based upon an acre-yield of 15.7 bushels and an average abandonment of 10 per cent on account of winter-killing. Texas is asked to increase the acreage of winter wheat 7 per cent; most Southern states 5 per cent. Oklahoma sowed a large acreage in 1917 and is asked to increase but 4 per cent. Kansas is not asked to increase as it sowed a record crop in 1917.

It is hoped that the season will be favorable for sowing. Weather has more influence than any other factor. Most farmers see the value of wheat and they will need no further admonition to sow liberally. There will be an abundance of winter wheat sown in the Southwest if we get moisture which we confidently expect.

Methodist Matters.

The Orphanage campaign is over and the pastor is home again. From such reports as we have gotten the campaign must have accomplished a great deal. Later reports will tell how much. Fall is opening and we will be pleased to see our people in their places Sunday morning and evening and at all services Sunday. We will be glad to be informed of any newcomer and any sick person who may need us. —Wallace M. Crutchfield, Pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ward and son have just returned from Wynnewood, where they visited Mrs. Woodson. They made the trip in their car, and report a heavy shower of rain out west of Stratford, but say crops do not look as well as they do around Ada.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

PRIZE WINNERS.

"I'm a great prize winner," said Mr. White Wyandotte. "So am I," said Mr. Plymouth Rock. "All our families are very fine," said Mr. White Wyandotte.

"True," agreed Mr. Plymouth Rock. "We win prizes wherever we go. We enter a poultry show. We are winners. We go to a county fair. We are winners. It's very fine to be either of my family or your family."

Now these two roosters were very large. Such big roosters as they were! And they were both white, with beautiful tops of red and ties of red, too. They were very proud of these handsome red ties which hung down just below their throats.

"They told me," said Mr. Plymouth Rock, "that my cousins, the gray and white Plymouth Rock family, won prizes, and that my cousins the ring-necked Plymouth Rocks, won lovely blue ribbons!"

"You're a fine family of winners," said Mr. White Wyandotte admiringly. "I've always thought well of the buff colored Plymouth Rocks, too."

"It's fine to have such relations," said Mr. Plymouth Rock. "Ah, my big cousins are very handsome and noble looking. They're beautiful, beautiful roosters."

"Magnificent," crowed Mr. Plymouth Rock.

And he crowed at the top of his lungs to let everyone know he was happy and proud and pleased.

"It takes a prize winner," said Mr. Plymouth Rock, after a moment's rest after a number of moments spent in crowing, "to appreciate another prize winner. Now if you were a scrawny-looking rooster you wouldn't dare admire my beautiful family. But you belong to a fine-looking family yourself."

"Thank you, thank you," said Mr. White Wyandotte, "cock-a-doodle-do. It is good of you to praise me and my relatives."

"I cannot help it," said Mr. Plymouth Rock, crowing again.

"Have you ever seen my cousins, the Columbian Wyandottes?" asked Mr. White Wyandotte.

"I am not sure that I have; are they beautiful?"

"They have black and white around their collars, and their tails. Their tails spread out like gorgeous plumes and are black and green."

"Magnificent," crowed Mr. Plymouth Rock.

"They also won prizes," said Mr. White Wyandotte. "And my cousins, the silver-pencilled Wyandottes, did, too. Ah, they are exquisite! They look as though they had been artistically painted with delicate silver. Ah, they're very glorious!"

"They must be," said Mr. Plymouth Rock.

"Well," said Mr. White Wyandotte, "I don't think we should find any fault with the poultry show this year. Every cousin and every kind of a Wyandotte rooster and every kind of a Plymouth Rock rooster have won prizes."

"We're the prize winners, as I said before," said Mr. Plymouth Rock. "Yes, we're the roosters worth going a long way to see. We can crow with a feeling of satisfaction. We can crow because we are entitled to crow. We have so much to be proud of. So much, so much," he repeated.

And then he crowed, and Mr. White Wyandotte crowed, as well as all of their cousins. Such a noise as they made, but indeed they all were beautiful roosters and certainly had won many fine prizes.

"Good-by for the present," said Mr. White Wyandotte, "my master is letting me out of my coop for a little walk. I need a bit of exercise. And my master and I are great friends."

"So are my master and I," crowed Mr. Plymouth Rock.

To be sure, where there weren't a great many people walking, Mr. Plymouth Rock and Mr. White Wyandotte strutted along by their masters, wabbling a bit from side to side, but oh, so proud at their monstrous size and their beautiful feathers.

"We're all prize winners, cock-a-doodle-do, cock-a-doodle-do," the roosters of these two families shouted above all the others.

But many of the other roosters thought they were just as handsome and the noise that came from the big hall where the poultry show was held was quite terrific. But at least all who wanted to see roosters knew for some distance around where they could be seen—for they were well heard!

Just to Ourselves.

It is hard to be really just to ourselves. A great many of us are more lenient with our own faults than with those of other people, while not a few censure themselves far more harshly for a false step than they would think of censuring another. What we should strive for is to be neither too exacting nor too lenient where our shortcomings are concerned, but to give ourselves the benefit of simple justice.

SHRINERS CLUB FORMED IN ADA

FIFTY BANQUETED AT HARRIS SEVERAL OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS PRESENT.

The red fez, the distinctive mark of the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, was prominent in the city Thursday, the occasion being the organization of the Potomac Shriners Club. Quite a large number of members were present from Francis, while Roff, Stonehill and Allen were also represented. In the afternoon the club was organized and at night the members and their invited guests banqueted at the Harris.

The officers of the club follows: President, L. H. Davis, of Francis. Vice President, Geo. W. Hicks, of Roff; Mrs. Fred Harrison, of Stonehill; W. M. Peggs, of Allen; Mrs. R. E. Briens, of Ada.

Secretary, R. E. Briens, of Ada. Treasurer, B. Brazleton, of Roff.

The banquet was a most enjoyable affair. Four courses were served which was greatly enjoyed by the fifty persons present. Judge George W. Clark of Oklahoma City, acted as toastmaster. Short addresses were delivered by Nobles Davis of Francis, Crutchfield of Ada, Potentate Beary of Oklahoma City, Secretary Geo. W. Spencer of Oklahoma City, Nobles Gillette of Francis and Brazleton of Roff. Other speakers were Capt. Chas. Ballard of the regular army and M. F. Manville.

Capt. Ballard, who is visiting the family of his wife Mr. and Mrs. Lute Dodge of this city, was but recently made a Shriner and his address was greatly enjoyed.

The meeting yesterday is but the beginning of many more such events. It is the purpose of this division of the Masonic order to hold a ceremonial in Ada in the near future.

AN APPEAL TO THE CITIZENS OF ADA.

Up until the 20th of August, 1918, the city was without an adequate ordinance pertaining to the cutting of weeds and keeping the alleys clean, generally, but upon that date, Ordinance No. 401 was duly passed and published in the News the following day.

This new ordinance was carefully drawn, and provides a legal way of compelling the owners or occupants of lots in the city to keep all weeds cut down, and trash removed from their premises, and it is the intention of the mayor to enforce the ordinance.

We are making this appeal to the citizens to cut the weeds in their gardens, back alleys and premises at once, before we are compelled to give you notice by a special policeman. Please have enough civic pride to keep your own premises clean, and "your premises" means your part of the alley back of your house. Ada can never be a real nice city until we keep our yards and alleys clean. Much good has been accomplished in the downtown districts, and now we appeal to the citizens to keep their premises clean, likewise. Otherwise, special policemen will be detailed to round up the violators of Ordinance No. 401. We sincerely hope this will not have to be done.

W. E. CONGER, Mayor of the City of Ada, Oklahoma.

ILLITERATE SOLDIERS ATTENDING SCHOOL

Camp Travis, Aug. 23.—More than two thousand soldiers from Texas, Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona are attending school daily at Camp Travis, most of these being illiterates and foreigners. Secretary of War Baker's order that men who lacked sufficient knowledge of English, or who were unable to read or write should go to school, has led to formation of a teaching force of 7 paid teachers, 38 military men detailed as instructors, and 76 volunteer teachers. These are under the direction of J. B. Taylor, Army Y. M. C. A. educational secretary for Camp Travis. Mr. Taylor, has, among his assistants C. F. Girard of the University of Oklahoma, as well as several educators from San Antonio's schools.

Recent news from Washington that a division would be formed and trained at Camp Travis has led to a big increase in the study of French, while several other classes are studying advanced mathematics, technical subjects and advanced English. Several of the classes are held in the army "Y" buildings, while others are conducted in the barracks.

THE ICE SITUATION

County Food Administrator Holden has taken a deep interest in the ice situation, and is doing everything in his power to relieve conditions. It is generally known that Ada is in far better shape than many cities of the state. The following facts have been fully established: The Ada Ice Co. is turning out about 25 per cent of their capacity which approximates forty tons per day—producing, therefore, about ten tons. The company has been unable to secure machinery parts and the plant has been forced to run in a crippled condition.

The demand for ice seems to be abnormal and country wide, and the local company is unable to secure ice shipped into the city.

If the above are facts, and Mr. Holden believes they are, it would appear not only unwise but unnecessary to make complaints when everything is being done to correct conditions.

Mr. Holden asks everyone to exercise patience in the matter, believing that the present condition will adjust itself soon.

Orders were issued to the Ice Company at noon today to discontinue sale of ice to all soda fountains and cold drink stands, and the Ice Cream factories.

Settling an Oriental Strike.

The dispute between labor and capital ended on Monday, and all weaving sheds are expected to work fully from Tuesday. This ending was hastened by the vow taken by Mr. Gandhi to abstain from food till settlement was reached.—From the Times of India.
